FIGHTING M. P.S HOME

Old First Cavalry Only Military Cops to Go Over Top in France.

More than 11,000 uniformed Yanks got Nome yesterday aboard three transports, the Agamemnon, the Mount Vernon and the Ohloan, many with decorations and hundreds with battle yarns to spin that do not differ materially from the fine collection already printed.

The Mount Vernon, originally the crack North German Lloyd liner Kron-erinzessin Cecilie, reestablished her supremacy as a transatlantic racer by seating the Agamemnon, formerly the aiser Wilhelm II., to port. The sched-e of the ships was upset because of the ambition of their skippers to get the the ambition of their skippers to get the better of each other. They arrived a day earlier than they were expected, the Mount Vernon docking several hours before the Agamemnon. On the racing fane the skippers, in the spirit of their sporting predecessors of clipper days, chaffed each other by wireless, which the old timers could not do.

Ex-Cavalrymen Return.

In the Mount Vernon's contingent were ighty-five officers and 2.764 men of the twenty-seventh Division, including the military police, in command of Capt. Juan Cebales of 112 Wall street and Bay Shore, made up mostly of college met waken from the old First New York Cav ry. General and Staff Will Meet Units of 27th Division in Harbor To-morrow.

5 UNITS DUE ON AMERICA

All Will Join Review March 25-Governor of South Carolina to Attend.

Major-Gen. O'Ryan and his staff will go down the harbor Thursday morning to greet the Fifty-second Artillery Brig-ade of the Twenty-seventh Division, which comprises the 194th, 105th and 106th regiments, the 192d Ammuni-tion Train and the 192d Trench Mortar Battery. Although the New York division's artillery did not fight under command of Gen. O'Ryan, it will be taken back to the Twenty-seventh's bosom upon returning on the America and will participate in the divisional re-proud war record. It left Camp Wads-worth ten months ago and was assigned to the overseas units of National Guard troops of Illinois and West Virginia. It troops of lillinois and West Virginia. It took part in the fighting around Verdin in early September, at St. Mihiel and in the Meuse-Argonne offensive on the west bank of the Meuse, between Bethincourt. Forges, Gercourt and Dannevoux. The brigade was playing an active part in the Meuse-Argonne offensive at the time the armistice was signed.

Fought in Many Battles. Notable battles in which the Twentyseventh's artillery participated were Lois Plat-Chene, Consenvoys, Grand Mon-tagne, Dun-der-Meuse, Haraumont Ridge and Boine-du-Sonnouiller. Brigade sta-tisticians estimate that outfits of the O'Ryan gunners threw an immense amount of steel and high explosives into the German lines, the number of rounds fired by the 194th, 195th and 195th regiments aggregating 200,914.

Included among the officers to arrive with the Fifty-second, most of whom are New Yorkers, are Brig.-Gen. George A. Wingste. Col. Charles G. Pulls, Col. De Wilt C. Weld, Jr., Lieut.-Col. Walter L.
